a. In addition to his regular support activities (surveillance, neighborhood checks, and record checks) in Kiel, Subject continued to build up his net of unwitting informants inside AEPLIMSOLL and in the hotels where the AEGLOBERS are billeted for the duration of the repair work (approximately 100 days per vessel), and accomplished this task with remarkable success. Several members of the AEPLIMSOLL security force - who "suspect" that Subject is working either for the criminal police or for an FRG security organization - have now fallen into the routine of supplying Subject with data on the movements of the AEGLOBERS and their local contacts. established himself as a "Stammpastor" by going to the hotel-restaurants where the AFLORENS are located and there were several occasions where he had direct contact with them. His inability to speak the YIDDISH language made it difficult for him to obtain a proper assessment on such contacts, but the few words of broken German revealed interesting facts about themselves (family background), their superstitions, and the security rules they had to follow in a foreign country. We have encouraged Subject to continue his "Stammpastor" role.

b. By visiting the hangouts of the AFLORENS, Subject observed and contacted several individuals (a hotel owner, a waitress, and several steady customers who are in steady contact with the AFLORENS after their working hours, and who may be of operational value). We are in the process of checking them out discreetly, and Subject has been assigned the task of obtaining information from them.

c. Subject, who continued his periodic surveillance of []'s residence, provided some data on AFLORENS visitors (by checking out their license plate numbers) and on []'s own movements. The permitting Subject also visited the docks at the Kibbutz and provided some information on the movements of YHARSH vessels.

4. Security: Nothing to report

5. Administrative: No changes

6. Financial:

Subject was paid DM 150.00 per month for his services for his operational expenditures.

7. Comments:

As before, Subject continued to be a valuable asset, and his contribution was of great value to our operations against the AFLORENS target in YHARSH.
